BOSTON THEIR NEXT POINT.

PAN-AMERICANS LEAVE THE CITY ON THEIR TOUR

DENIAL OF A STORY THAT THEY HAD ASKED THEIR GOVERNMENTS TO ADOPT RE-TALIATORY TARIFF MEASURES DE-

LIGHTED WITH THEIR VISIT. After devoting four days to the examination of the principal financial and commercial institutions and the large manufacturing concerns of this city, Brooklyn and New-Jersey, the Central and South american delegates left here yerterday afternoon for Boston. Before their departure several of the delegates informed a Tribune reporter that they had been profoundly impressed with the magnitude of New-York and its many evidences of modern progress. Although their visit had been necesmuch information that would be valuable in their efforts to develop the commercial resources and to improve the trading methods of their own coun-They were enthusiastic also over their restment and the hospitality that has been extended to them during their stay in New-York. The only drawback to their vieit, some of the merchants say, is that they have not had sufficient time to inspect more minutely the industrial centres in this neighborhood; and so desirous are everal of the delegates to pursue their observations in this direction that at the end of the tour that has been arranged for their benefit by the Philadelphia Commercial Museum nearly a dozen of them will return and spend some months in and around this city. The visitors in the time they have been here have frequently expressed the view that the practical monopoly of the trade of the southern republics is held by European countries, and that it should rightfully be diverted to this

OPINIONS THEY EXPRESS.

They have not hesitated, either, to point out some of the reasons which they believe have prevented the greater volume of this business coming to the ted States. One great obstacle they have dwelt upon is the absence of proper shipping facilius between the ports of the north and the south. The desirability of a similar credit system as that allowed by England to the merchants of the south has also been referred to by them, while they op-pose a high tariff upon the products of Central and South America. Upon this latter question Senor Lix Klett, of South America.

Upon this latter question Sefor Lix Klett, of Buenos Ayres, was quoted in a paper yesterday as saying that the delegates had telegraphed to their different governments advising retailatory measures in the event of the United States Government fixing a high tariff upon goods coming from the South. Yesterday afternoon Sefor Lix Klett, when the report was shown to him, said that he had been somewhat misconstrued. "The delegates," he added, "have not communicated with their respective governments in this matter. They have no commission from the governments of any kind, and their advice is not sought by the administrations of the countries from which they come Some of us, like myself, however, are interested in newspapers and have sent letters to those journals reviewing the results of our journey and of our investigations. All that I have said upon the tariff question is that I can see no hope for any reduction being made in the tariff system of the United States."

Yesterday the delegates spent the day until the time of their departure in obtaining a rest they well deserved, after their ardums experiences of the last few days. Some of them in the morning attended service at St. Patrick's Cathedral, and listened to a sermon preached by Father Hervey. THE START TO THE PIER.

Renewed expressions of appreciation and thanks for the courtesies extended to them in this city were heard on the one side, while on the part of the New-Yorkers the hope was expressed that the risit of the delegation would redound to the mutual advantage of the republics of the north and of the south. Punctually at 5.29 o'clock the steamer Puritan left her pier for Boston, where the representatives will stay until Tuesday.

The rest of the itinerary mapped out for their tour is as follows: June 17 and 18, Providence, R. 1.; 19, Worcester, Mass.; 29 and 21, Springfield; 22 New-Haven; 24 and 25, Pittsburg; 26, Dayton, Ohio; 27, 28 and 4, St. Louis; 5, 6 and 7, Chicago; 8 and 2, Milwaukee; 19, Grand Rapids; 11, 12 and 18, Deiroit; 14 and 15, Cleveland; 16, Buffalo; 17, Niagara Falls, and returning to Philadelphia, the starring place, on July 18.

20TT'S LITTLE BUNCH OF WHISKERS GONE A decided sensation was created in City Magistrate Mott's court yesterday, and, strange as it may appear, it was caused by the Magistrate himself. The attendants of the Essex Market Court are prone to fall asleep because of the stillness which prevails when Magistrate Mott is on the ench, but they were aroused from their lethergy resterday morning by seeing a hard-featured little man bustle into the courtroom and proceed to seat himself on the Magistrate's throne. The court officers were rendered speechless for the moment at the supposed presumption of the stranger who dared to take such liberties in a court where not ten newspaper reporters were permitted to have bests within the railing, and where lynx-eyed detectives who dared to approach the august presence without first gaining permission in writing and under seal were summarily ejected. The officers under seal were summarily ejected. The officers recovered their composure, however, as quickly as pollemen are expected to do under such circumstances, and were about to eject the stranger with more haste than ceremony when one of them took a second look and exchaimed: "Can it be?" Then they all looked, and it dawned on them that it could, and before the ruthless minions of the law as grappied with the supposed intruder it was fortunately discovered that he was no other than facilitate discovered that he was no other than facilitate most himself. The wonderful transformation in his appearance had been brought about by a simple barber, who had deprived him of "the bunch of whiskers" that used to decorate his chin.

The policemen who made the arrests testified that they did not see any money pass among the men, and they were all diskarged.

RAN FOR A CAR AND DIED.

Adolph Magnesson, a workingman, twenty-five feats old of No. 1850, exhiption-are, while in West-chester village yesterday afternoon, ran for a car, and when he was within a few feet of it, suddenly fell forward in the street. He was dead when fekes up. He had long been a sufferer from heart chease, and it is supposed the excitement of running brought on the shock which killed him.

ZOGBAUM'S STUDIO ROBBED.

A THIEF GETS AWAY WITH RARE SPECI-MENS OF ARMS AND SOME MODELS.

Rufus Zoghaum, the artist, whose home is in Lockwood Lane, New-Rochelle, recently removed his studio from his cottage to the carriage-house, and filled it with rare models of naval and military weapons, and accoutrements and armor, which he had gathered in his travels. Several weeks ago Mr. Zogbaum missed some javelins and scimetars, which he had occasion to use. The loss of several other articles and models followed within a few days, and the case was reported to the police. Sergeant Cody and Patrolmen Kelley were detailed on the affair, and hid themselves behind some armor in the artist's studio. Fatroman Kelley was on watch on Saturday night, and as the thief came in he sprang upon him, and after a strugge overpowered him and took him to the police station. The man said his name was John Carroli and that he was a painter. He refused to tell where he lived or what he has done with the stolen property, which is valued highly. He is well-dressed and staye, and the police think he is a professional thief. had gathered in his travels. Several weeks ago

ORDINATION OF PRIESTS AND DEACONS BY BISHOP CAPERS.

Four priests and seven deacons were ordained by Bishop Capers, of South Carolina, in St. Chrysostom's Chapel of Trinity Parish, Seventh ave. and Chirty-ninth-st., yesterday morning. Elshop Capers was acting for Bishop Potter, who is abroad.

The candidates who were advanced to the priest-hood were the Rev. Alexis William Stein, of St George's Church; the Rev. Willett Nicoll Hawkins, who goes to the clocese of Albany; the Rev. Murray Augustus Bartlett, of Grace Chapel, and the Rev. Hugo Radan, of Missouri.

The candidates who were ordained to the diaconate were Theodore Irving Reese, William Brecken ridge Holcomb, James Burgess Sill, Elias B. Stockton, Edward Moore Parrot, Jr., William Howard Davis and Walton H. Dogget.

The preordination retreat was conducted by Capers, with the assistance of the Rev. Ralph H. Baldwin, chaplain to Bishop Petter, at St. Philip's Church, at Garrison's-on-the-Hudson

The Bishop took his text from Revelations i, 8: "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, suith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty." He pointed out that the qualifications for the priesthood are an abiding faith in the Lord, and a belief in the inracles and revelations of His power.

DR. COLLYER ON ECCLESIASTES.

HE DECLARES THAT HE DOES NOT BELIEVE IT AND THAT IT WAS THE WORK OF SOLOMON'S OLD AGE.

The Rev. Dr. Ropert Collyer occupied the pulpit of the Church of the Messiah, Thirty-fourth-st, and Park-ave., yesterday morning and delivered a discourse on the Book of Ecclesiastes.

The preacher declared that the book was the most difficult of all Scripture to understand, and there were learned Jews even to the time of Jerome who wished to destroy it; but it survived. There was something in it that made itself heard.

"If you believe every word it chills all piety, paralyzes all effort and curses all prayer. If it is all true, then to die is better than to live. If it is true, then life is a world of nothings from the first nothing before birth to the last of all nothings after

"I don't believe it. It is no matter to me who to man was that wrote i, not even that he was the wisest of men. Ay, even if an angel should say it is true, I should still say no. God never mean that life should be vanity of vanities. I will not believe it, you will not believe it and thousands and hundreds of housands will not believe it. Our own experience proves it faise. Solomon was not the man to testify. He was not in the right candition. If the book is the work of Solomon's oid age, that is the best reason for not believing it. Solomon the solomon who built the Temple. His young life had been equandered away, and the fresh fountains of his youth had been tenanged to puddles. Haggard vice had replaced the fairest virtues. Successful revolution had replaced the cty of God save the King! His sceptre was faitering in his grasp. His throne was surrounded by wirked men, who had driven the good away.

"Can we allow, then, that such a man be permitted to teach us that it is 'Vanity,' all vanity,' when he himself was the vanity of life. No, we cannot form an estimate of life when our lives are ruined and undone. The best reason for denying that 'All is vanity' is found in the brith, one thousand years after this pessimistic king, of another Child from the same kingly line, who was given had other sermon to preach and to form another estimate of life.

"There are moments in our careers when we look were life as Solomon did because the black sport is hundreds of housands will not believe it. Our own mate of life.

There are moments in our careers when we look upon life as Soloman did, because the black spot is in our eyes and coursing through our velos. But in the same moment we hear a strong voice crying out to us from on high 'Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest!"

THE REFORMED EPISCOPAL COUNCIL PROSPECTS FOR THE SESSION TO-DAY-RESULT

OF THE VESTMENTS DISCUSSION. Aside from the raising of a large sum of money for the purposes of the Church, the General Council of the Reformed Episcopal Church did little Saturday. To-day the Council will take up the matter of the revision of the calendar, but in all probability it will be referred to the meeting of the Council next year, in Paltimore.

There are various matters concerning expenditures and appointments that will also come up, but there is a disposition to allow the matters, unless urgent, to await the action of the Baltimore session. This is done in order that the friction engendered by the discussion on vestments may be cooled off. The success of the advocates of the Geneva gown has not resulted in the defection that was at first supposed would follow it. Bishop Cheney has already reconsidered his resignation from several committees, and will perhaps withdraw it to-day, and his example will probably be followed by the four other delegates. All the delegates to the Council scout the idea of a split in the Church. In: Hoffman said that the matter was greatly exaggerated. Although there was some little disappointment on the part of a few, there was no such acrimony as would result in an ecclesiastical schism. tures and appointments that will also come up

BISHOP FALLOWS'S SERMON.

Rishon Fallows, of the Reformed Enisconal Church byterian Church, Fifty-third-st, and Madison-ave He said that people had received Christianity much the same as they received light and air. They had never disputed it. In the early Christian ages religion had a terrible struggle for existence. But Christianity won the contest. There was no loss of Christian purity while the power of Christian faith Christian parity while the power of Christian faith was asserting itself. Some fought for religion the best way they could conceive. They simply preached the plain truth in plain language. Many had tried to destroy religion, and there were always to be found men to lift up destructors to conspicuous notoriety. Pseudo-scientists had been sought out by some. For centuries Christians had to engage in a hand-to-band conflict for every inch of the ground occupied by Christianity. It had fought the malignant heathenism of ages. Then ministers of Christ did not occupy the vantage ground they do to-day.

Christ did not occupy the vantage ground they do to-day.

The Christianity of to-day, Bishop Fallows said, has nothing to fear from agliation. On the other hand, it has everything to gain. It invites the light. It comes to us by prescription, by inheritance. It was handed down from the ages, and we have no reasen to question it. The Bible was written by many men. Every fragment was affame with the truth of God. It has been left to infold itself before all the centuries. The Bible, he said stood to-day in all its uniqueness, in all its grandness. Every other work written by man will bow nefore it. The Bible has been thrown into the fire of criticism. It has been heated seven times botter than all the fires into which all the books of the world have been cast. It came out of that furnace without the signs of having been through a fire.

A BOY HURT BY A BICYCLIST.

Gelallo Lodnella, six years old, who lives with his parents at No. 432 East Eleventh-st., was knocked down by an unknown bicyclist at Eleventh-st, and First-ave, last evening. This point is enth-st, and First-ave, last evening. This point is a great resort for wheelmen, as the streets are bread and paved with asphalt. It is also a play-ground for children. The injured boy lay unconscious for a little while, and a crowd gathered about and much excitement prevailed. An ambular of from Pellevue Hospital was summoned, and the boy was taken there for treatment. It was found that he had sustained a severe fracture of the left leg, and had, besides, several contusions. In the confusion that followed the accident the wheelmen escaped.

TALK ABOUT A CONTEST.

DIFFERENT PROVISIONS OF THE TWO IN-STRUMENTS LEFT BY JOSEPH RICHARDSON.

Whether or not there will be a contest over the property left by Jozeph Richardson no one seems at present able to tell, not even the lawyers who drew up the two wills, of which the widely different pro visions were given in yesterday's Tribune. The will dated October 29, 1894, filed by Miller, Peckham & Dixon on Saturday, divides the whole of the prop city between Mr. Hichardson's son George and his daughter, Della Grace, leaving the widow unprovided for, while another will, signed April 24, 1897, is now in the hands of Hazeltine & Darlington, and will probably be filed for probate to-day or to-mor-The latter will, after giving two legacies, one to the Central Park Eaptist Church and the other to the Pev. Harry M. Warren, leaves the bulk of be property in equal divisions to Mrs. Richardson and the two children. The latter will contains a sentence revoking all previous wills, and the grounds for a contest could therefore, only be either that Mr. Richardson was of unsound mind when he signed it or that undue influence had been

A relative of Mrs. Richardson said yesterday that he did not be leve the son would wish to contest the second will, as he had always been friendly to his father's second wife; but the probable action of father's second wife; but the probable action of Miss Richardson was not so easy to foretell. She had left her father's house immediately after his second marriage, and Mr. Richardson had given her a house at No. 110 East Houston-st., where, with two maiden women, one of them a cousin, she has lived ever since. Miss Richardson, who is now about fifty years old, is already wealthy. The Houston-st, house has no bell or knocker. Such vietlors as are known to the immates rap on the door, and—after an investigation from within—are allowed to enter. Strangers can knock all day without any result. Mr. Hierardson used to visit his daughter frequently, but Mrs. Richardson never accompanied him

Mrs. Elchardson was as reticent yesterday as the est of those interested in the affair. She would as nothing as to a possible contest or as to what cotton she would take supposing that a contest hould be made.

say nothing as to a pensible contest of as to what action she would take supposing that a contest should be made.

There is just as much uncertainty about the real value of the Richardson estate as about the course to be pursued by the heirs. Wheeler H. Peckham, of the firm of Miller, Peckham & Dixon, is understood to have declared that the catate will amount to nothing like the $9.60(76) it is reported by others to be worth. On the other hand, some of Mr. Richardson, Said that Mr. Richardson is friends say he was worth nearer $4.60,000 than $3.060,000. W. T. Washburn, a connection of Mrs. Richardson, said that Mr. Richardson lest considerable money a year ago in the fall of prices in the stock market. Mr. Richardson owned little real estate, having given much of his holdings in this city to his daughter. Mrs. Richardson will, therefore, if the second will is set aside, only receive what she is entitled to by her dower right.

An intimate friend of the dead man said yesterday that he was never known to turn out a tenant when the rent was not forthcoming. He was also generous to any one who obtained access to him and told him a story of bardship. "Indeed," said the informant. "Pretty well every one heav Mr. Richardson's hause owed him monet." While the body was in the house, he added, a workman called him, and after a long look at the dead man's face, he exclaimed. "There's my best friend." It seems that Mr. Richardson had caved the man from starvation, and found employment for him and his daughter. He had continued to look after them until within a week or two of his death, and his help had resulted in placing the man in a comfortable condition. Mrs. Richardson is also said to be extremely charitable, and has never been known to refuse aid to any one in distress.

THE REV. DR. BROWN'S TRINITY SERMON AT ST. THOMAS'S CHURCH.

The sermon of the Rev. Dr. J. W. Brown at St. Thomas's Church yesterday morning was appro-priate to Trinity Sunday. Dr. Brown took his text from the third chapter of the Gospei of St. John, at the sixth verse: "How can these things he?"
"This," said Dr. Brown, "was the exclaration of Nicodemus, when he came to the Savieur in the dead of the right, and, after questioning Christ in relation to the Trinity, replied with the answer,

"How can these things be"
"It will be noticed from the services to-day that varoughout there are a repetition and an intensifica-tion of the idea of the sufficiency of the answer ns to what the Triniy is. When it is taken into consideration that all over the world thousands of Anglo-Savons are celebrating this same event in the Church of England, in the Colonies and in this country, it can well be understood what the potency of this great acclaimation means. This is the only day in the calendar that commemorates a truta. This is the day when the truth of the Trinity is celebrated. When Nicodemus, a member of the Sanhedrim, that hishest of Judean councils, came to the Saviour in the dead of the night, he came to ascertain the truth. His was a mission in search of the iruth, Being a teacher of the Jews, he was compelled to be discreet about his mission, though afterward he became an exponent of the doctrines of Christ, and suffered for his adoctacy of the teachings of the Lord.

"When Christ unfolded to Nicodemus on that nocturnal mission what was needed for sivation, and explained that unless ye first be been again ye cannot enter the Kingdom of licaven, and then explained the process of salvation through the Trinity, Nicodemus asked, How can these things be? Then the Saviour put to Nicodemus the question which was in itself an answer. Ye believe in God? Then have faith. The assumption of the omnipotence of Jehovah was sufficient, Faith in the powers of the omnipotent carried with it all the truths of the revelation unto Nicodemus." this country, it can well be understood what the

AND DR. PATTON, OF PRINCETON, SAYS THE GOOD SAMARITAN HAS NOT YET APPEARED.

Princeton, N. J., June 13,-Dr. Francis Landey Patton, president of Princeton University, chose as his text for the baccalaureate sermon, which he preached to the members of the graduating class to-day, Luke, x, 27: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," and by way of illustration read the parable of the Good Samaritan. The main theme of Dr. Patton's sermon was personal responsibil-ity in social morality. The part of the sermon which attracted the greatest attention was his words relating to the present crisis in European

"It is evident," he said, "that Greece, after the

"It is evident," he said, "that Greece, after the manner of the traveller in the purable, has fallen among thieves, and as we look over the map of Europe it is easy to see who the priest is. We may also recognize the Levite and we have been looking all these months for the Good Samaritan to put in an appearance.

"I am sure you will join me in congratulating Queen Victoris on the completion of her sixty years brilliant reign, and yet we cannot help regretting the diplomatic intrigue which has prevented England from exerting the high moral and Christian influence which such an opportunity has presented. But Americans are not in a position to criticise when such a measure as the Arbitration Treaty has been rejected."

President Patton went on to say that University sentiment in this country is absolutely in favor of the Arbitration Treaty, and closed with an address to the senior class, saying in part:

"I present this lesson of the Good Samaritan to you, and, having presented it, I need not longer impress upon you any specific advice. Only let me say that I do not know a better illustration of the idea of a neighbor, a better symbol of the mutually neighborly relation than is found in the relations of college life and of the members of a college class with one another."

THE PRESIDENT RESTING.

SUNDAY SPENT QUIETLY IN CHAT-TANOOGA, TENN.

MR. M'KINLEY ATTENDS CHURCH, DINES WITH COMMISSIONER EVANS AND DRIVES TO ORCHARD KNOB-SOME OF THE

PARTY VISIT CHICKAMAUGA. Chattanooga, Tenn., June 13 .- After almost a week of travel, sightseeing, speechmaking and social duties, somewhat onerous, though pleasant in performance, the Presidential party had a Sunday of restfulness. The heat, while intense, was somewhat tempered by a northwesterly breeze, which, however, was not much in evidence in the railroad station, into which the train pulled from Nashville just as day was breaking. The run was made slowly, in order that the President and Mrs. McKinley should not be disturbed immediately upon their arrival here. They breakfasted in their car, and immediately afterward, much to the regret of many prominent citizens, who wished to meet the President in the morning, drove to the home of H. Clay Evans, Commissioner of Pensions.

It was not the desire of the hospitable citizens of Chattanooga, however, in any way to controvert the President's wishes. At 10.30 o'clock the President, accompanied by ex-Postmaster-General Key and Mr. Evans, went to the First Methodist Church. Mrs. McKinley did not accompany the President. The pastor of the church, Dr. Westhafer, preached from Genesis, xxil, 14: "In the mount of the Lord it shell be seen." The general subject of the sermen was "Transfigured Humanity." No reference was made to the distinguished guests in the sermon or service, except that the blessing of Providence was asked for the President and his Administration in the opening prayer. The church was crowded and many were unable to obtain admission. At the close of the services the President returned to Mr. Evans's home, where he quietly cested until about 3 o'clock, when, in company with the Commissioner and Mrs. McKinley and Mrs. Evens, he drove to Orchard Knob, one of the crucial points in the battle of Missionary Ridge. The party returned in time for dinner, after which the President gave a short reception in the Read House.

At S o'cleck the President went to the house of Captain H. S. Chamberlain, a personal friend, where he remained a short time, afterward returning to Commissioner Evans's home, whence he escorted Mrs. McKinley to the train.

Secretary Sherman did not attend church, but remained with his daughter at the home of W. M. Lasley, whose wife is a relative of the Sherman family. Mr. Sherman's daughter, Mrs. Mc-Cullow, was affected by the heat in Nashville last Friday, and to-day has been ill. Secretaries Alger and Wilson attended the Second Presby-terian Church.

Alter and Wilson attended the Second Flessy terian Church.

Private Secretary Porter and many of the visitors, together with a large number of the newspaper men, started at 9:40 o'clock by rail for Chickamauga Park, stopping at Lytle Hill, where conveyances were in readiness to take the party over the historic grounds. The party had as electones Gereral Charles H. Grosvenor, of Onio, and General J. L. Wilder, of Johnson City, Tenn. Among the others were Colonel Neuthbon Wince'er, General Willard Warner and Colonel H. B. Case. When Snodgrass Hill was reached the party alighted, and General Grosvenor, in a brief and graphic address, described the events of the afternoon of the fateful Sunday over thirty years ago. Returning to the city, Lookey Mountain was visited, and a ful Sunday over thirty years ago. Returning to the cit. Lookent Mountain was visited, and a delightful afternoon was spent on the elevated President's train pulled out between 10 and 11 c'cleck, and went three miles to Sherman Hills, where it remained until the schedule time for leaving Chattaneegs, the purpose being to avoid the heat of the city.

PRAYERS FOR QUEEN VICTORIA.

AUTHORIZED BY BISHOP CAPERS, ACTING FOR DISHOP POTTER.

At the suggestion of the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, the Standing Committee of the diocese at its last meeting requested Bishop Ellison Capers, of South Carolina, acting for Bishop Poter during the latter's absence abroad, to set forth a form of prayer to be used on Sunday, June 29, in all of the Episcopal churches in the diocese of Newday appointed in the Church of England for the religious commemoration of the sixtieth year of the reign of Queen Victoria. Bishop Capers has responded cheerfully to the re-quest, and has authorized the following collects:

Bishop Capers has responded cheerfully to the request, and has authorized the following collects:

O almighty and ever-living God, King of Kings, Lord of Lords, we praise Thy name for the memorable years of the reign of Thy servant, Victoria, the good and ever-faithful Queen of Great Britain, Keep her, we beseech Thee, under the protection of Tay good providence. Sustain her in the cares of her great office. Grant her health, prosperity and long life, to lead her nation in the way of righteousness. May all things be so ordered and settled by her endeavors upon the best and surest foundation that peace and happiness, truth and justice, religion and piety may be established in Great Britain for all generations, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Almighty God, who has made of one blood all nations of men to dwell on the face of the earth, pour Thy blessing, we beseech Thee, upon the people of the two great countries of common race, tongue and faith—Great Britain and the United States. Bind them together, we pray Thee, with cords of mutual respect, justice and charity. Sustain their institutions, nourish their arts and letters. Inspire their churches, lead their statesmen and guide their people in the way of righteousness and peace. May the two nations vie with one another in striving to do Thy will and in working mightily for Thy righteousness, that so among all the nations of the earth Thy kingdom may come and Thy name be glorlied. Grant this, we beseech Thee, in the name of Thy Son, our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen

HARLEM THEOSOPHISTS MEETING.

The anniversary of the starting of the Theo sophical Society crusaders was observed last night in the rooms of the Harlem branch of the Theosophical Society, at No. 142 West One-hundred-and-twenty-fifth-st. It was also flower night, and the children of the Lotus Society carried big bouthe children of the Lotus Society carried big bou-quets of flowers to the platform, which was al-most covered with them. The hall was decorated with national flags, the gifts to the crusaders in their journey around the world. Mrs. Cathe-rine Tingley, who had been ill for some days, ap-peared late in the evening and made a few re-marks.

ARRESTED FOR A SHREWD SWINDLE. Chief of Police Conlin is much pleased by the arrest of James Hambrick, thirty-two years old, of No. 220 West Sixty-fourth-st., as the prisoner is believed to be the leader of a gang of shrewd The arrest was made by Detective Callashan, of Captain Schmittberger's command. For some time past complaints have been made to the police by people who had been swindled out of money by means of "fake" telegraph dispatches Detective Callaghan was put on the case, and learned that one of the dispatches had been sent from the District Messenger office at Forty-secondt, and Broadway to Sarah Orth, wife of Frederick orth, a confectioner living at No. 653 Ninth-ave. The telegram was presumably from Mr. Orth, and in it he requested that $10 be sent him by the mes-senger. Mrs. Orth gave the messenger the money, senger. Mrs. Orth gave the messenger the money, and was surpried to learn, when her husband returned home, that he had not sent the telegram. Detective Callaghan discovered that a messenger boy named Brown had delivered the dispatch, and on going to the office on Saturday he saw the boy and was talking to him waen Bambrick came in. Bambrick engaged the boy to take a sealed letter to a Mr. Lachman at No. 608 Ninth-ave. In the letter was a bogus telegram to Mr. Lachman, purporting to be from his son, asking for $10. Mr. Lachman would not give the money to the messenger, nowever, and Detective Callaghan then placed Bambrick, who was waiting for the return of the boy, under arrest.

Bambrick was arraigned in the Yorkville Court yesterday, and Mr. and Mrs. Orth appeared against him. He was held in $500 bail for examination today.

OBITUARY.

SEYMOUR G. HESS.

Seymour G. Hess, son of Subway Commissioner Jacob Hess, died at his home, No. 68 West Sixtyeighth-st., on Saturday, from pleuro-pneu He was twenty-six years old, and was born in this city. Being graduated from the public schools, he entered the law school of Columbia College. He did not like the profession of law, however, and abandoned it for the stage, for which he had marked aptitude and talent. His first engagement was with the late Professor Herrmann seven years ago in a Brooklyn. He next appeared in "The Merchant," Brooklyn. He next appeared in "The Merchant," and then went on a tour of the country in company with "Gus" Williams, John T. Kelly and other well-known comedians. The following season he acted with much success in the comedy of "Mr. Wilkinson's Widows," under Charles Frohman's management, and also with Johnstone Bennett in "Jane." He then appeared in "The Passing Show," taking, at one time and another, most of the leading characters. Mr. Martineau, the stage manager of this company, said that Mr. Hess was the most versatile young comedian he had ever met in all his long career, and that he could apparently be

Mr. Hess was next seen in "The Merry World,"
"Excelsior, Jr.," and "Evangeline" at Manhattan Beach last summer. He played a short engagement with Miss Lillian Russell last winter in "The American Beauty," and his last appearance was in "The Isle of Gold," three months ago. He played the part of an Indian in the latter production, delineating the development of the Indian's character through education, and made a success of it. Mr. Hess possessed good musical ability and was a great favorite, not only among his professional associates, but also among his large circle of friends in this city and elsewhere. He leaves a widow, The funeral will be held at his home to-morrow morning at 10:39 o'clock, and the services will be conducted by the Rev. M. Kohler.

EDWARD L. DE ROSE.

Edward Livingston de Rose died on Saturday at lis father's country place at Easthampton, Long Island, aged twenty-one years. He was the sen of Edward de Rose, of this city, and his mother was Miss Varnum, who died some years ago. Young Mr. de Rose was a handsome and attractive young man of excellent character and abilities, a membe of one of the junior classes in Columbia University of one of the junior classes in Columbia University, a capital rider, driver, fencer and all-around athlete. His death, which was quite sudden, was caused by rheumatic fever, probably the result of a severe attack of typhold fever, which nearly cost bim his life two years ago. He was an only child and the heir to a large estate, and on May II last his coming of age was celebrated by a large dinner at the Union Club, given in his henor by als cousing General James M. Varnum, on which occasion young Mr. de Rose won the respect and esteem of all present by the modest, tacfful and graceful manner in which he responded to the toasts in his horor. On Wedresday night last he received the honor of a unanimous election to the Union Club, of which his father and many members of his family have long been members.

MRS. EARL PHILIP MASON. Mrs. Mary E. Raymond Mason, wife of Earl Philip Mason, of Providence, R. L. died in this city yesterday and the funeral will be held at No. 22 Charles Field-st. Providence, on Wednesday at 11 o'clock. She was a daughter of the late Henry J. Raymond, of New-York.

THANKS FROM PRINCE NIKOLA.

THROUGH THE METROPOLITAN OF MONTENEGRO HE ACKNOWLEDGES THE RECEIPT OF MONEY

Tomo Sargentich, of the Bank for Savings, No 280 Fourth-ave., has received a letter from His Grace Mitrofan Ban, the Metropolitan of Monte-negro, and chairman of the Flood Relief Committee, acknowledging the receipt of the money sent through Mr. Sargentich to aid the sufferers last January. The letter in translation is as fol-last January. The letter in translation is as follows:

Mr. Tomo Sargenich, New-York, America.

Esteemed Sir: His Highness, our beloved Gospodar, Prince Nikola, has been graciously pleased to charge me as chairman of the Flood Relief Committee to acknowledge the receipt of a draft on Messrs. Rothschild & Son, Vienna, for 200 florins, received from you, being the amount subscribed in New-York for our sufferers of the recent floods in our poor country.

His Highness also desires me to be the interpreter of his deep gratitude to you, and to the gentlemen who have subscribed, and as a further mark of nis great appreciation has caused a note of thanks to be published in the official gazette, "Glas Cernogorca," together with the names of the donors to the fund.

1, as chairman of the Relief Committee, take great pleasure in stating that the gift from far America has been immediately applied to great benefit to a number of our sons and daughters, whose helpiess condition no words of mine could describe. For yourself, esteemed sir, to the gentlemen who have aided us, and to great America, we send our Apostolic benefiction, with earnest prayer to our Lord that His cholcest blessings may rest upon you all. I am, esteemed sir, in the bond of faith, yours sincerely, Metropolitan of Montenegro.
